MAYTIME DANCE TONIGHT

Student Body Playday Extravaqanza Program Planned For Wednesday At 2

"Play Day" for the students and faculty of San Francisco State will be celebrated next Wednesday, May 15, from 2 p. m. to 12 p. m. Included in the scheduled program for the day are a two hour rally, for which all classes will be ex- cused, an hour and a half of com- petitive games between faculty and students, a faculty-student softball game, a weiner roast in the Co-op, and a dance in the gym.

Seventeen novel acts, ranging from a guitar duet to a tumbling act, will be featured at the rally which begins at 2 in the Women's gym. Popular songs will be ren- dered by Jean Laycock, well known Stater and vocalist with Dick aBiley's orchestra. A choir and band from the music depart- ment are also expected to be on and. A trumpet solo by Dr. Carlo astrucci will be one of the high- lights of the rally.

Competitive games, including a pie eating contest and a relay race, between profs and -students will follow the rally. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of the var- ious games. The softball game will follow.

Hot dogs and potato salad will be the main part of the picnic dinner, served in the Co-op from 6 o'clock on. Tickets for the dinner are be- ing sold by members of the recre- ation classes and are also available in the student body office. The price is 55c per person.

Dancing in the gym, to the music of popular records will complete the play day.

Guests of honor for the affair will be 50 wounded veterans from Let- terman General hospital. "We do not know if they will be able to attend the entire play day," stated Jean Smith, organizer of the af- fair. That depends upon their doc- tors."

Pivnick Beats Pucci For Presidency; Dolan, Burch, Blum, Healy Elected

After one of the hottest student body election campaigns in recent years, Izzie Pivnick won out over Joe Pucci for the presidency of the associated student body.

June Dolan defeated Lou Rubin for the office of vice-president while Don Burch out-ran Audrey Scantiano to become treasurer.

Failure to include Doris Hoff- man's name among those running for the office of secretary has ne- cessitated a run-off election which will be held next Thursday, May 17, from 9 to 4 in the correction room of the Women's Gym.

Art Blum and Pat Healy won out for the office of member-at- large, upper division. A tie occur- ed between Hal Juster and Ell- erth Larson for the third member-

No Fashion Show

Betty Jennings, president of Bib n' Tucker, sadly announced that Bib n' Tucker will not present its annual spring fashion show. The better stores have informed the club that they will have a much wider selection of clothes in the autumn, and in order to maintain its high fashion standards, Bib n' Tucker is therefore planning a Fall Fashion Show and tea.

The Other Side

By Scott Hope

Art Blum, feature editor of the Gater, and Meta Johnsen, pres- ident of the student body, each struck a figurative gold mine this past week. Art, in a satirical fea- ture story in last week's Gater, be- moaned the fact that there were too few comfort stations for men on campus. With the tremendous increase in male students this problem has become extremely acute and Art's article seems to have started the ball rolling to- ward several more latrines, more conveniently located, on campus. The question has been brought to the attention, officially, of the ex- ecutive and administrative lead- ers of the school.

Meta, in an address at the ban- quet last Monday evening, hum- orously suggested that the palm tree be moved out to the new campus. Every college has some- where on its campus a traditional site for gathering, meeting, etc. Why not our palm tree? The palm tree has become a singular part of our campus, consequently, of our school. When we move out to Lake Merced we should take with us something of this campus other than memories. It would not en- tail too much difficulty to trans- plant the palm tree.

Deadline Set For Gater, Franciscan Petitions

At the Board of Publications meeting Tuesday, Inklings was ac- cepted as an official college publi- cation. It was also decided that graduate students may petition for editorial positions on college pub- lications. Petitions for editorships on the Golden Gater, Franciscan, and Inklings must be in faculty post office box 40 by 11 a. m., Tues- day, May 14.

At the semi-annual Gater ban- quet Tuesday evening, May 14, the new editors will be announced. Reservations for the dinner which will be held at the Riviera may be obtained at Betty Hickman's of- fice.

Sallie Golumb Selected As Graduation Speaker

Sallie Golumb has been selected by a senior committee of students and Dean P. F. Valentine, vice- president of the college, to repre- sent the graduating class as stu- dent speaker at the commence- ment exercises on Friday evening, June 7, at the War Memorial Opera House.

Miss Golumb is prominent in student dramatics, and has an outstanding scholarship record.

She is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic fraternity; Kap- pa Delta Pi, upper division schol- arship fraternity, and Delta Phi Upsilon. Miss Golumb took a lead- ing role in last semester's play, "The Late Christopher Bean."

Junior Class Sponsors Gala Evening Of Fun And Merriment To Student Body

"Maytime" will be the feature of the junior class sports dance to be held tonight from 8 to 12 in the Women's gym.

Free to student body card holders, the dance is "an expression of the gratitude of the class to the student body for the support given to the Junior Prom," according to the following letter received from,

President Lou Rubin:

"On the behalf of the members and officers of the Junior Class, I would like to take this opportunity to invite the Associated Student Body of San Francisco State to a dance given by the Junior Class.

The dance will express the grat- itude of the class to the student body for the sincere and gracious support it has given the Juniors in their every undertaking. The dance will be entitled 'Maytime,' and will be given this evening, May 10, in the Women's Gym, from eight until twelve o'clock. The entire expense of the dance will be carried by the Junior Class and admission will be granted by virtue of student body cards.

We of the Junior Class's admin- istration hope we are setting a precedent in returning funds in ex- cess of our absolute necessity to the student body in view of the fact that they are responsible for our surplus. Our prime objective is that of service to the student body.

So may I again cordially invite all of State to the Maytime dance, this evening, May 10, at eight o'clock in the women's gym."

Lou Rubin, Junior Class prexy, invites college to Maytime Dance tonight.

Choirs of Six Junior Colleges Attend Festival

Junior colleges representing six northern California areas partici- pated in the Northern California Junior College Choral Festival last Tuesday in the First Baptist Church.

State, acting as host for the festival, entertained the junior col- leges in the evening with a dinner, dance and concert miniature pre- sented by the A Cappella Choir, directed by Mr. Roy Freeburg.

OPENING ADDRESS

Opening the festival were sev- eral short welcoming addresses by Miss Flossita Badger, general chairman of the festival; Mr. Roy Freeburg, associate professor of music; President J. Paul Leonard; Dr. William Knuth, professor of music, and Joe Pucci, activities chairman of the festival.

San Mateo men's glee was the first junior college group to sing, and was directed by Frederic Roehr. They rendered several numbers typical of college singing, highlighted by "Viva L'An'our."

Girls' glee from Modesto sang "Weep O Mine Eyes" by Wilbye, and a suite "Rosemary" by Randol Thompson. "Rosemary" portrayed the humorous as well as the serious side of a very unusual girl. The group was directed by Ednar Barr Love.

"Star" by Rogers, and "Low- lands," an English folk song, were among the numbers sung by the Salinas girls' glee, directed by Ger- trude Lowe. "Star," their out- standing number, was composed of unusual harmony and expression.

San Mateo girls' glee, directed by Frederic Roehr, gave a fine performance of "Lift Thine Eyes," from the "Elijah" by Mendelssohn. "O Praise the Lord" and "Mister Bahjo" were among the numbers rendered by Marin's A Cappella Choir, directed by Clinton Lewis. "Mister Banjo," a Creole song, was especially appealing to the audi- ence and lent a delightful atmos- phere to the affair.

Stockton's A Cappella Choir performed several selections ar- ranged by Fred Waring. Among them was "Erie Canal," an Ameri- can Folk Song, featuring a bari- tone soloist. David Lawson direct- ed.

San Francisco Junior College was the last to perform, directed by Flossita Badger. The A Cap- pella Choir sang several well- known numbers including an Eng- lish and Scotch folk song.

CHOIR PROGRAM

An impressive musical program was presented by State College singers before the visiting choiris- ters and directors at the banquet in the cafeteria which climaxed the festival.

Described by one of the guest directors as "the greatest choir in the west," State's A Cappella Choir, directed by Mr. Roy Free-

EDITORIAL

Editorialist Insists Play
Still Cost Too Much!

In answer to your letter, Mr. Reynolds, I find my editorial WAS and IS necessary.

You write that I was the only one to object to the excessive price, other than those in College Theater. Had you kept your ear a little closer to the ground you would have heard what the common student said. Need I mention the fact that there was dissension among College Theater personnel because of the excessive admission price? Not you, perhaps, but the students should know AND BE GLAD THAT AT LEAST SOMEONE IS LOOKING OUT FOR THEIR INTERESTS!!

Granted that the cost of materials and equipment is higher, but that does not excuse College Theater for charging an excessive admittance price in view of the gross receipts turned into the Business Manager of the Associated Students of this college.

Specific Colleges Named

You name specific colleges and a high school that charge higher prices. Well? Through false analogy you infer that this college should charge higher prices. Has it occurred to you that each institution you named is a PRIVATE INSTITUTION and, as such, the cost of attending any one of these institutions is a great deal more than the cost of attendance at this college? The State of California does NOT charge you RENT for its facilities. There are NOT two sides to THIS question!!

Okay, Mr. Reynolds, let's work and pull together, I'm willing... but remember—you can't raise a man intellectually simply by raising prices!!

A Little Late 'Tis True, So Editor, Easter Both Lay Eggs

By Irv Thomas

Well, Easter vacation has passed—thank God. I don't know why they call it "vacation." The only free time I got out of it was a half hour's worth of cutting paper dolls between chapters 9 and 11 of Ogburn's Sociology. Chapter 10 of my book is now known as Lana, Hedy, Great, Rita, and Fanny (Fanny is my girl friend). Even that half hour was shortened to twenty minutes when I stabbed myself trying to give Fanny some eyes.

I still don't understand why they give you a four day rest and then pile five days' work on you. I'm not kidding. I was so deep in books that an Easter bunny, hopping by on his way to Golden Gate Park Sunday morning, stopped to ask me if he could take out a library card.

BLASTED DREAMS

The real pity of it all is that for weeks I'd been dreaming up choice places to go and things to do for that far away set of days on the calendar. In all of four days, I could see myself up at Clear Lake, down in Los Angeles, and roaming Yosemite. Then, gradually, the spectre of work began to close in on my various plans. One by one, it seemed, each road out of town was blocked by an unsmiling professor, horsewhip in hand. Books were shackled to my legs; a type-writer hung around my neck by a chain. As a final ignominy, my mid-term grades were thrust before my haggard eyes. What could I do?? In vain, I begged and pleaded. Gosh, I would've given six easter eggs just for a trip across the bay bridge.

LUCKY, LUCKY LAD

I never realized how lucky I was in high school, getting a full week off for Easter. Now I wish that I hadn't made such a great effort to pass my senior year. Yes, they warned me, but after six years, high school was beginning to get on my nerves. And now, what has all my effort gained me? Toil, toil, and more toil.

Ah well, every cloud has its silver lining; every prison, its creaking door. Only six more weeks, and I'll be free of everything. I'm getting new ideas every day for that precious vacation. I might go up to Clear Lake, or down to Los Angeles, or maybe even do a little roaming in Yosemite. Who knows?

Conscription View Aired By Leonard

Aspirations for State college and the educator's approach to universal conscription were the highlights of President J. Paul Leonard's address to the International Relations Club last Friday night in the cafeteria.

Dr. Leonard presented his aims and gave his ideas for improving State so that it will eventually become the best teachers' college in the west. He also stated that he was opposed to universal conscription unless it was absolutely necessary for our national security, or a definite link in achieving world peace.

Traveler Scare Alarms College

After an exhaustive sifting of confidential data, we have stumbled onto a truly alarming situation, bidding fair to ruin the entire college.

We are speaking of the commuter menace. Commuters, sometimes called commuters or commies, now comprise one-seventh of the student body. They converge on State every morning by bus and train from many strange, distant countries. Organized into a compact army, they bore from within like termites and hope eventually to dictate their anti-San Francisco ideologies from the steps of College Hall.

COMMUTERS BATTERED

It is easy to recognize a member of the commuter horde, for they have many peculiarities of dress and manner. For example, their clothing is usually battered and torn, often hanging in shreds. This condition is readily understandable to anyone witnessing the bloody battles for seats on any transbay streamliner. (Darwin's theory proven.) Another tipoff on the hardened commuter is his hangdog, furtive expression and habit of never meeting one's eye. This is acquired by constant tripping and/or slugging of sweet old ladies or kindly old gentlemen to beat them to the last seat.

TRAIN RIDERS RUGGED

Although train riders are a rugged, brawling crew, well able to take care of themselves, the elite guard of the commuter forces are bus riders. While few in number, long years of twice daily struggles for life have quickened the bus riders' wits and strengthened their muscles until the strength of one is as the strength of ten. Many are the awful tales of blood and plunder whispered around their campfires, and many are their enemies who mysteriously disappear into the night.

If the loyal students are not careful, they will awaken some morning to find their throats cut and the new campus nestled among the mud flats of Emeryville.

Although we are marked for an assassin's bullet, we will go to our grave willingly, now that the truth is known.

BLUM'S BULLSESSION Names N' The News

Reverse lend lease took place recently when Gene Phillip's wife presented him with a brand new baby boy—born in England! And mother and child are not only doing well, but are expected to arrive in America soon!... Hidden talent was discovered in the office of Dean Mary Ward when it was learned that her secretary, Elizabeth Stewart, has already had many raves about her voice and that great things are expected of her in the world of music... And also possessing a remarkable singing voice is the little lady who starred at the recent AWS rally, Anita Gibbons!... accolades go also to Mr. Orlando Gioso, State Music instructor, for the wonderful reception his newly composed "March" was given by all those who heard the concert band play it for the first time last week!

BUCHANAN BANTER

At a recent dinner given for Henry Wallace, Secretary of Commerce, Marne Camp, AVS prexy got in—as a waiter. 'Twas okay until the head waiter discovered our Marne juggling his tray like mad, simply because he was applauding Wallace's speech and balancing the tray at one and the same time!... Ed Doty's band campaigning for Joe Pucci deserves plenty of credit, for it lent a terrific amount of color to the campaign that had been lacking for many years!... The AWS rally acquainting co-eds with school organizations brought to light four little ladies whose speechmaking ability was so good that we heartily endorse them to meet any four lads in a "Battle of the Sexes" debate any time, anyplace. They are Rosemary McGuinness, Margaret Stine, Carmel Mullan and Barbara Geissberger. In response to many queries concerning the top-notch rally, the accordionist was June Christianson, and the dancers were Kappa Delta Tau's Phyllis Andriani and Lene Struckmeyer... incidentally, George Ruge, former State editor, interviewed Buddy Rich, band leader, over KYA last Saturday.

BLUMMING AROUND STATE

Within the last few weeks two more all-State couples have announced their engagements: Carol Sublett to Keith Erwin and Jean Smith to Don Ellis. Hm, subsistence must be coming in now! Ken Shelley, former member of the Cyclone Division, still retains that zest for adventure, as evidenced by his many forays to the infamous Bohemian Black Cat. But then maybe this Black Cat brings more than "bad luck, n'est-ce-pas?"

Joe Pucci says it with music to his hosts of adoring feminine followers who daily come traipsing down to his Marina Music Shop. Izzy Pivnick says it with flowers. Claims that girls have more "fauna" with "flora!" (Editor Note: Blum, you're fired!)

Senior Week looms just ahead and we find Inger "Rusty" Lee in charge of the Senior Week luncheon party. Ed Osorio, senior prexy, is expected to start flooding Gater baskets with reams of publicity on Senior Week any day now, for it is a big event.

STATE-MENTS

A little known, but highly significant event took place recently when Kappa Delta Pi, Education Society, held an open house and tour for close to a hundred high school members of the California Scholarship Federation. Impressing the visitors with the advantages of the State College of 1946 were President Marian Zaun and Secretary Ruth Lind, as well as guides John Grantham, Jean Ingram, Edna Fracchia, Gloria Nebitt, Virginia Bush and Vera Claes Stoeckle.

After hearing that Dr. J. Paul Leonard was a judge at the recent New's spelling bee, we've hastened to use the dictionary again. But as long as he doesn't judge writer's contest there's still hope left!

DUNN, EDSTROM BLASTED

USF Diamonders Trounce State 13-3; Granitz Hits Home Run In Big Rally

State's diamonders wound up a sometimes hot, sometimes cold season Tuesday by taking a 13 to 3 drubbing from USF. The Dons' Phil Garcia held the Gators to six scattered blows, while his teammates climbed aboard Red Dunn and Irv Edstrom for 13 safeties.

Scoring in the first inning, and twice in the third, State held a 3 to 2 lead until the sixth, when the Hilltoppers rallied with six runs.

Chuck Damonte squeezed Herb Bill across the plate with the Gators' first run. Four errors by Ed Granitz, USF short-stop, enabled Dunn and Bill to score two unearned tallies in the third.

GRANITZ HOMES

Dunn weakened in the sixth, and walked Forrest Hall, of 4th Air Force gridiron fame, Paul Schramppka and Oreste Matteucci. Joe Vevoda cleaned the bags with a triple. Garcia walked, and Granitz made up for his fielding lapses by clouting a four-ply wallop for three more runs.

Opening up with their big guns in the eighth, the Dons scored four more, when Granitz singled, Del Simone doubled, Hall singled and Schramppka tripled deep into right-center.

MAKE TWIN KILLINGS

Three quick double plays by the Don infield helped Garcia through several rough spots, two of them coming with the bags loaded. Garcia started two of them himself.

Dunn also averted further trouble in the seventh on a twin-killing from Bill to Nicolini to Schultz.

INTRAMURAL

By Tom Thorp

With the reopening of the Student Lounge the ping pong tournament is at last getting under way again, while the red-hot volley ball league has reached its halfway mark and the intramural tennis tournament is going into the finals.

The complete standing in the ping pong tournament is as follows: In the men's singles, Joe Wolfson and Bud Wendt meet in one of the quarter-finals, while John Holden and Marc Gelles clash in the only other quarter-final yet to be played. Bill Dobbins has already advanced to the finals. In the women's singles Rosemary Wallace meets Mary Falbo in one of the semi-finals, while Billie Cohen takes on the winner of the Lila Rose-Barbara Agel match in the other. The men's doubles and the mixed doubles have yet to begin.

John Holden and Joe Wolfson, finalists in the ping pong tourney, meet today for the championship in the women's gym at noon.

Manager Ethan Papaneau is trying to start a men's doubles tennis tourney. Anyone interested in playing should contact him at once. No games in the singles tournament were played this week.

Current standings of the volley ball leagues are as follows:

GYM SHORTS

By Paul Hungerford

Open letter to the Guardsman, San Francisco Junior College newspaper: In an effort to terminate the JC loquaciousness over the bitterly discussed State winning streak of 27 straight baseball games from the mighty Rams, we should like to find out whether JC is bragging or complaining over the fact that they lost 27 straight and then beat us twice this past season. It is about time someone butted the Ram in the butt so he could offer the Gator and other teams a little competition.

Last Monday the Gators started the spring training in preparation for next fall's grid-clash. The Gators, although fairly big, are slightly green. Coach Dick Boyle is a capable man, and you can rest assured that this season's team will really play the game of ball that Staters like to see played. With boys like Amos Adkins, Carter Toler, Dick Wind, Jack Root and a few more of the "smaller" fellas we can almost be certain that it won't be a dull season!

Hear ye! ... Hear ye! ... Hear ye! The track season has come to a successful conclusion. The kids on the Gator cinder squad built up a reputation of being deadly with the spikes when they defeated colleges such as COP, Cal Aggies, University of Nevada and Chico. Coach Ray Kaufman has put in a lot of time trying to build the team up to the full strength by the end of the season. All in all the student body owes Kaufman and the entire track team a vote of thanks for coming through the season on top by beating every team they played. This is the first step in attempting to put State back on the sports map. In about two years the Gator teams will be about as strong as some of the major universities.

Hal Fox was ill during the last meet and had the team pretty worried because they depended on him to take first in the hundred and two-twenty, and the fellas were nothing but a bundle of nerves ... so when li'l Carter Toler dug out of those starting holes and took first in the hundred, the purple-clad boys of State just about flipped. In the same meet John Shepherd finished the season undefeated in the low hurdles.

Gator Growls and 'Grats:

Growls ... to the guys and gals that don't show up at the intrasquad football game which is coming soon.

'Grats ... to Russ Armstrong for life-guarding up at Lake Anza in the Berkeley Hills.

Growls ... to the downtown newspapers for not giving us a decent coverage in any of our sports.

'Grats ... to Joe Wolfson for coming through the inter-collegiate tennis season undefeated.

Quartararo's Singing, Dr. Leonard's Speech Highlight Banquet Banquet Acclaimed Outstanding Success; Quartararo Singing Superb

Combining the two-fold purpose of celebrating the passage of the appropriations bill for the new campus and honoring Miss Florence Quartararo, more than 500 students, alumni and faculty members gathered at a banquet in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis last Monday evening.

PROMINENT GUEST

Many state, political and educational leaders were also present as guests of the school at the dinner.

Highlighting the evening's program was the return of Miss Quartararo to the school from which she graduated. Following five vocal selections she was awarded an honorary Bachelor of Music degree by Dr. J. Paul Leonard. Miss Quartararo sang "Un Bel Di Vedremo" by Puccini, Bizet's "Ouvre Ton Coeur," "Let My Song Fill Your Heart," by Charles, "Through the Years," by Vincent Youmans, and concluded with Puccini's "Vissi d'Arte."

LEONARD ADDRESSES GROUP

Dr. Leonard, in a brief address, thanked the members of the State legislature and educational leaders who were prominent in obtaining the appropriation for the new campus, the veteran's housing units, the dormitories, increased faculty salaries and the permission to grant the secondary credential. He said, "We should, in time, become the cultural center of San Francisco."

The principal address of the evening was given by Mr. Roy Simpson, state superintendent of education. Mr. Simpson reiterated the need for more attention toward the educational program of California. He pointed out that two factors are crowding all schools far above capacity—first, the return of thousands of war veterans; second, the increase in the number of first graders this year and the expected record increase next fall.

Other speakers were Mr. W. J. J. Smith, a representative of the alumni, who expressed his appreciation, and that of the alumni, for the progress State has made and will make. Miss Meta Johnson, president of the student body, also spoke on behalf of the students.

Dr. Leonard discusses plans for new campus with Dr. Knuth and Dean Cox.

burg, and with Dr. William Knuth as narrator, put on an inspired and memorable performance of songs in a wide variety of moods.

Mr. Harold Hollingsworth, chairman of the vocal department, gave a flawless rendition of "M'appari" from the opera "Martha," the old English lyric "My Lovely Celia," and Cadman's "Service."

An unexpected guest at the banquet was Florence Quartararo, State alumna and Metropolitan opera star, who spoke briefly of her happiness in returning to the college for the occasion. She was introduced by President Leonard.

Joe Pucci expressed his appreciation for the work done by members of the Music Federation in preparing for and handling the affair.

Group singing by the assembled choirs and guests, under the leadership of Mr. Frederic Roehr, director of San Mateo Junior College choir, terminated the banquet.

Visiting directors present besides Mr. Roehr included Mr. Clinton Lewis of Marin J. C., Miss Edna Barr Love of Modesto, J. C., Miss Gertrude Lowe of Salinas, J. C., Miss Flossita Badger of San Francisco J. C., and Mr. David Lawson of Stockton, J. C.

Miss Gertrude Luehning and her staff transformed the cafeteria into a colorful banquet hall and prepared and served the food.

Veterans Promise Support To WSSF

Whole-hearted support of the World Student Service Fund drive was decided upon by the Associated Veteran Students at a regular meeting last Wednesday.

Marne Camp, president of the organization, announced that there will be a meeting for all the veterans in the college Tuesday, May 14, at 12:15, at which time Mr. Purcell, Veterans' Administration representative, will give the necessary information on terminal leave, summer sessions and interruption. Veterans not attending summer school will be given forms which will provide for a minimum of delay in getting subsistence next fall.

The organization also decided to support the following constructive suggestions:

That the Book store post in a conspicuous place at the beginning of each semester a list of all books required for the different subjects at State. This semester many men failed to get books needed at the latter part of the semester because they were not aware of the need for them.

That the schedule and program for next semester be improved if possible.

That more value for the student body card be given if possible.

Three Loudspeakers Installed In Co-op

Three loud-speakers, one microphone and an amplifier were installed recently in the Co-op for use in making regular announcements to cafeteria customers.

Installed by student Roy Levy, the new public address system covers the entire dining area. It was felt that the expenditure was justified because the anticipated increase in enrollment necessitates a means by which important announcements can be made to the student body on short notice.

Equipment must be used for announcements concerning the entire student body, and permission must be obtained from the Co-op management. First use of the system was made at the recent Music Federation dinner for 300 students and visitors held in the cafeteria.

I am not putting the author is an extremely bashful, winners of the election on the spot unassuming person, who, I am by saying that they will be criticized, but any democratic form of himself as a poet. I, and many government welcomes constructive criticism or suggestions.

ELECTIONS

With the exception of three positions to be run-off, the student body elections are over. It is true that a great deal more interest was present this year than in the past couple years, but it was still rather a poor showing. According to the figures I have obtained, about 59 per cent of the student body members holding student body cards voted. This is much better than last year.

I am certain that there will be complaints, suggestions and criticisms directed at those officers just elected and I am wondering how many of those complaints will

Our school should go places next year. We will have an enlarged faculty, a broader curriculum and a larger student body, but—we can do nothing unless the students themselves pitch in and help a little. If we are too lazy to vote, I can not see how we can expect to do too much.

INITIATION PLANNED

Sigma Phi Sigma, lower division honor society, will hold formal initiation ceremonies in the Activities Room today from 3:30 to 5 p. m. A program, under the direction of president June Dolan, chairman of the initiation committee, will be presented and refreshments served.
